Description

With 30 before the top to departure, we were heading into the wind to kill time, and the boat was tacking without intention and without speed. The ESP 10005 boat was one and a half boat lengths to our starboard but we were unable to avoid it because, as we had no speed, the rudder was not responding.

We rehabilitated ourselves by making a 360° turn and the departure was cancelled with a general recall.
