7. Description Of Incident

Mark boat picked up the yellow mark and moved it significantly to windward while the fleet was on the reach leg. No indication of change of course was made to the boats. Myself and a few other boats were sailing "low" towards where the yellow mark was set while others were sailing high towards where the orange change of course mark was set for the radial yellow fleet. This movement of the mark cost myself significant distance and places in the race.
