7. Description Of Incident

We were on port on the first upwind when we arrived on the lay line. CZE 40 was upwind and behind me. When others in front of me started tacking onto starboard I started to do so too. Before I could complete my tack CZE 40 hit me while still on port, causing my kite to collapse. CZE 40 was far enough behind to have time to decide to duck or tack with me. My tack was purposely slow and should not have been unexpected. I can try to supply go pro footage from another rider. Lorenzo ITA saw the incident
