PROCEDURAL MATTERS

FACTS FOUND

Hugh had proceeded down the run very wide, to the right of the course looking downwind.

Hugh headed up, to approach the mark, with the line across his transom pointing toward the windward mark.

Olly was preceding toward the left gate looking downwind and close to it.

At three boat lengths when Hugh entered the zone, Olly was inside the line of Hugh's transom (nearer the mark) though further from the mark than him and outside the zone.

Olly went between Hugh and the mark.

Hugh gave Olly room to pass between him and the mark.

There was no contact between Olly and the mark or with Hugh.
