We-tech was sailing on starboard, Krasotka approached on port on a collision course. Krasotka first tried to bear off, but did not manage to duck below, and then tried to tack. However, the tack failed and contacts occurred. The crew of We-tech went below to check for damages and then showed the red flag.

The contact caused cracks in gelcoat but no structural damages.

After the contact Krasotka bore off and We-tech tacked, boats continued to race.
