7. Description Of Incident

On August 10 race 4

The race committee started blue fleet with a black flag and the hoisted the general recall flag following the start. I was sitting below the line awaiting the committee to show the numbers of the boats in blue fleet that were over. There was no ap flag flown following the start so I assumed once the general was taken down a minute later the recalled class (blue fleet) would be started again. A minute after the general came down a new class flag was flown that was not the blue class. I believe that rule 29.2 from the racing rules of sailing was broken as a new class was started after the first substitute flag was taken down.
