Scoring Inquiry:

You just emailed back saying it is UTC and not echo. We have just checked YTC for an sb20 flying a spinnaker which we are is 0.94. Can you please make correction to our results for both yesterday and today. Thank you.

Response:

There is only one SB20 (called Chaotic) on the YTC database. It has a YTC of 919 under spinnaker. We are using a TCC instead of the YTC number. When this is done the YTC of 919 equates to a TCC of 1.088 (that is 1000 divided by 919). The smaller the YTC number the higher the TCC.

Accordingly, your TCC is correct.
