Scoring Inquiry:

We were on starboard, and were screaming at 6034 for several seconds to avoid us as they were on port and they did not and smashed into our boat. We protested them and they never did their spins. Right after, they tacked and then tacked back into us (by now we were on port and they were on starboard) and smashed into us again. They then asked if it cancels out as we both "hit each other" and we said no. They never screamed a protest to us. Shortly after as we were assessing damage below the upwind mark on port, the same boat (6034) started screaming starboard to us, coming from the upwind, windward of us, on port. We yelled for several seconds that they were not in fact on starboard and that we had leeward on them to which they said nothing and kept going. We had to tack out of their way to avoid collision. They never did their 360s, despite us yelling protest and their sail number several times.
